GOVERNORS REFUSE TO BE HOGTIED BY GOVERNOR PARKER

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Dec. 15.—The governor's conference here will refuse to take a stand either on prohibition enforcement or the Ku Klux Klan, it has been definitely decided by the executive committee of the organization of which Governor Sproul of Pennsylvania is chairman. Governor Sproul and the other members of the Executive Committee have flatly rejected the demand of Governor Parker of Louisiana that the conference adopt resolutions on both subjects.

It is believed that the majority of the governors' present believe that the conference should be for open discussion of state problems and not for the purpose of wielding influence through resolute action and since Governor Parker came into the conference with the express purpose of fighting the Ku Klux Klan and kicking against the prohibition amendment at the same time it was thought best to dismiss the proposition until after the conference called by President Harding for some time in January is call.

GRANGE ENDORSES 25 MILLION BOND ISSUE FOR FOREST

Williamsport, Pa., Dec. 15.—The Pennsylvania State Grange, in annual session in this city, this morning passed a resolution endorsing the proposed $25,000,000 bond issue to provide funds for an extension of the Pennsylvania state forest system to include all non-productive forest lands.

A resolution to this effect was included in a report submitted over the signature of Governor-elect Gifford Pinchot, who is chairman of the standing committee on forestry and conservation, and which report was authorized by the Grange in its session of five years ago.

The Grangers gave their support to the resolution, pointing out the revenues from state forests enter the school funds of the state and claiming that if the state forests would be made to include all available non-productive lands the expense of the public school system could be met from revenues thus derived from these lands are made productive.

Another resolution called for the setting of the date for the next state session to conform with the National Grange sessions, which will be held in this state next year, and appropriating $5,000 towards the expense of the National Grange session.

An impressive memorial service was held this morning in tribute to Mrs. Adda Miller, of Erie county, lady assistant steward, and John A. Campbell, of Wellesboro, former Steward of the State Grange.

NOTED SPEAKER ON CHURCH ILLS DID NOT ARRIVE HERE

"What's the Matter with the Church?"

This was the subject for a dissertation by a noted speaker billed for the Presbyterian church last evening and practically every seat was filled at the hour announced. In addition to the bringing of an expert on church ills to Clearfield the church people had prepared an elegant lunch of sandwiches, coffee and ice cream in the church dining room and a great social time was anticipated by all.

However, those who attend are still in darkness as to what is the matter with the church, if anything is the matter with it, and judging from the fellowship and fine spirit existing last evening, we don't think it is very serious. For the New York Central train coming up from Williamsport ran true to form and got held up behind a freight wreck down at Cato and the speaker of the evening had to stay down there in the mountains until near the midnight hour before the train was put in motion.

When Dr. Reave announced the unfortunate turn of affairs, which he did in a heavy and most novel manner, it was a decided disappointment to the audience, but a few songs and a solo by Miss Jean Flannery soon dispelled the gloom and the lunch which almost miraculously proved to enjoy completely routed the disappointment.

An effort will be made to bring this man here again and an earnest audience will be ready for him.

VERDICT ON M'KEE IS INVOLUNTARY MANSLAUGHTER

Under Which Kerrmoor Man Who Struck Blow Killing Robert Tubbs Can Get Two Years

MINIMUM ONE DAY

All of yesterday's news taken up court by the trial of Abram McKee charged with manslaughter, in the slaying of Robert Tubbs, a fellow worker on the section near Kerrmoor when the two men were arguing and fought over various matters.

There was some little difference the testimony of fellow workmen to what actually transpired between the two men when the assault the heavy shovel was made but it was indeed little to indicate that McKee intended to do much harm.

Throughout the trial it became apparent that feeling between the families in the Kerrmoor community for several months has not been of nature to make a peace-loving, law-abiding community and these family feuds cropped out in gangs of players in the fields and in the mines. Several times it was inferred that this feud had a bearing on the unfortunate altercation which cost the life of Robert Tubbs.

Mr. McKee made an excellent news for himself. He declared mind a blank when he struck his fellow worker and he was very reticent to discuss the personal relationship existed between himself and the victim. He refused to attempt to make his defense self-defense, gave an elegant impression of a man who was not without brains.

The prosecution, in making McKee give his best effort at anything in the law that could make in his favor owing to McKee's attitude after the slaying, having told the story straight forwardly in a manly fashion, to conduct of the trial there was no tempt made to paint McKee as a body else than an outstanding citizen without a blemish prior to the on the section.

Attorney for the defense, masterly plea for the defendant, calling his fine record as a citizen, holding his little family of six children together since the death of his mother six years ago, of his both father and mother to them, the mental anguish he has since the slaying.

District Attorney Arnold stated his closing remarks to the jury in all his experience he had never presented a case in which there were so many heartrending circumstances and re-affirmed his sympathy for the defendant. His charge to the jury was, however, that sympathy must not be the deciding factor, but a life had been taken and a man must answer for it to the law. That the taking the life was admitted and that the oath the jury's had taken could do no other than render a verdict of guilty.

The case was given to the jury the night session which terminated about eleven o'clock and by midnight the jury had returned a verdict of guilty on the indictment of involuntary manslaughter. The penalty under this verdict can be for any period from one day to two years.

KELLER, AUTHOR OF FIRST FARM CREDIT DECLARES U. S. WILL DAUGHERTY CHARGE, MEASURE REPORTED SOON PARTICIPATE REFUSES TO TESTIFY TO THE U. S. SENATE IN EUROPE AFFAIRS

Washington, D. C., Dec. 15.—Representative Keller of Minnesota, author of the impeachment resolution against Attorney General Daugherty, today defied the House Judiciary Committee.

Keller refused to appear before the committee in answer to a subpoena. Issuance of the subpoena followed an acrimonious wrangle between Representative Keller and the House Committee members last night which was precipitated when Keller attempted to read a statement in which he charged the committee with attempting to "whitewash" the Attorney General.

The committee voted today to go ahead with the impeachment proceedings despite the absence of Representative Keller.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 15.—The first farm credit measure was brought before the Senate today when the Agricultural Committee decided to report favorably the Norris bill. The measure provides for the establishing of a one million dollar government corporation to supply credit to farmers in an effort to alleviate the distressing condition in which the farmers of the nation find themselves.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 15.—A high official of the United States government today authorized the statement that American participation in European tangled affairs was not far distant and that the United States would very soon initiate an action, the results of which would be most far reaching.

He also declared that Ambassador Harvey would be called to Washington for a consultation with President Harding and Secretary Hughes in regard to European affairs.

PRIVATE LIVES OF MOVIE STARS BEING THOROLY SEARCHED

New York, N. Y., Dec. 15.—A quiet and searching investigation into the private lives of the great movie stars is understood to have been sanctioned by Will Hays, czar of the movies, since the probe into the activities of the national drug ring on whose books are said to have been found the names of some of these stars as customers. Mr. Hays today said that he did not intend to become a detective or was not interested in what had been but was exerting his efforts toward creating a healthy atmosphere in Hollywood and other big movie centers and gave it as his opinion that a great deal of the hinted scandal about such places was without foundation of fact.

Producers are known to be investigating the private lives of some of their stars and at least one of the scintillating lights is known to have been called before his producer to answer to charges of having drunk to excess and using drugs. It is declared that he denied both charges and that a physician was called who examined the man for the telltale mark of the needle but no evidence of his guilt was found.

Millionaire "Red" Stuck For Haywood And His Pal's Bail

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 15.—The $20,000 bail bonds of Big Bill Haywood and Henry Rothfischer who escaped to Russia after having been indicted for violation of the espionage acts was declared forfeited today by the Federal Court. The bondsman is William Bross Lloyd, millionaire "red" who recently served time on similar charges. If the money is not paid over in ten days the government will sell the palatial Lloyd home.

VAN SWERINGEN INTERESTS GET AN OPTION ON C. & O.

New York City, Dec. 15.—The Van Sweringen Company of Cleveland, Ohio, who operate the New York, Chicago and St. Louis, the Toledo, St. Louis and Western and Lake Erie and Western railroads, hold an option which if taken up will result in the firm controlling the Chesapeake and Ohio, according to reports in financial circles today. According to these reports the option is on the holdings of Edward Huntington, chairman of the Chesapeake & Ohio, and control of the road goes with these holdings.

LEGION WILL MAKE DRIVE FOR 100,000 MEMBERS NEXT YEAR

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 15. (U. P.)—A drive to increase the membership of the American Legion to 100,000 will be launched in 1923, according to plans of the State organization.

Alvin Owsley, of Texas, National Commander of the American Legion will tour Pennsylvania next winter to aid in the intensive campaign for increased membership.

Gilbert G. Jacoby, department adjutant of the American Legion, has sent messages to the 667 posts in the state all veterans desiring vocational training and have not made application must do so under present laws before December 15, 1922.

Ex-service men and women who wait until after this date will forfeit their right of receiving this government training. Where the post mark of the application shows that it was mailed on or before December 15, the application will be considered.

4 Armed Bandits Shoot Philadelphia Payroll Messenger; Get $20,000

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 15.—Four armed bandits held up the payroll messenger of the Fels Naptha Soap Company at Darby, Pa. The messenger, named McKee, was shot in the face and the bandits escaped with a satchel containing $20,000.

"OLD BEECHER," DEAN OF ALL BUCKDOM, WHO OUT-GENERATED GOSHEN HUNTERS FOR YEARS, BROUGHT DOWN YESTERDAY

There is joy about Goshen Camp these days and well do they have a right to be proud. For several years the hunters who spend two weeks there every year have reported seeing a stately ten point buck and about every member has had a shot or two at the old fellow but he has always been too well acquainted with the hills and valleys and underbrush to be trapped or driven out to the crossings where he would have been easy prey to the rifle bullets.

Yesterday "Old Beecher" as he has affectionately been called for at least five years was outwitted by Charles Franzen of Clearfield who says he has felt it in his bones all along that he would get him some day.

There is no mistaking that the deer gotten by Franzen was "Old Beecher" as an examination of his teeth shows the gold fillings put here by Doc Ch. some three or four years ago while Doc was spending some time there out of season at which time the best of feelings existed between Doc and the denizens of the wild.

Reparation Problem On For Sincere Co-operation By The Nations Affect

London, Dec. 15.—Reparation difficulties can only be overcome by patient and sincere co-operation between nations primarily affected. King George declared in a message to the House of Lords today was read by the Lord Chamberlain prior to the closing of the House, the Christmas holidays.

Charles T. Conners is spending week at Tar Hill camp hunting big game.

"How's the Old Whip, Rajah?"

"Great. How's the soup-bone, Christy?" Thus the famous battery of Mathewson and Brennan met in New York. Both Christy and Roger looked fit as a pair of fiddlers.

MOTHER AND SON MURDERED AFTER BATTLE IN HOME

New York City, Dec. 15.—Mrs. Anna Cataldo, aged thirty, and her son Fred, aged nine, were murdered at their Stillwell avenue home on the Twenty Island by an unknown Italian who stabbed them to death then set fire to the house. The bodies of the two were found on the kitchen floor by firemen who responded to the fire alarm. The room was in disorder and looked as though the woman had put up a desperate battle for the life of herself and little son.

Mr. and Mrs. Zerfoss and Miss Katherine Zerfoss have just returned from Harrisburg where they were called on account of the death of Mrs. Zerfoss' mother.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

The title of the lecture on "My Trip Around the World," delivered on Tuesday evening last at the High School building reminds some of our old timers of one of the cleverest stunts ever staged and pulled off in Clearfield. Back in the early seventies, shortly after graduating at Yale, the late Hon. John "Jack" Patton, then of Cuyahoga, later U. S. Senator from Michigan, made a trip abroad and on his return delivered a lecture at the county institute. His subject was entitled "My Trip to Europe and What I Saw." Mr. Patton was a finished orator and scholarly gentleman, a good observer and gave a fine entertaining lecture, which was later delivered in different sections of the country, for he and his lecture were both popular and pleasing. He left here shortly after that and engaged in the practice of law at Grand Rapids, Mich., where he was eminently successful.

Not long after that Prof. John Mays of Jordan township, the famous veterinary surgeon, with a colony of people from that section of the county went west to Montana where they took up homesteads and settled. But the country being very new and sparsely settled, there wasn't enough work in Prof. Mays' line to keep him employed and he soon returned to his native hearth.

Prof. Mays was a graduate of Some College of the upper reaches of Chest and Clearfield Creeks and he obtained his degree in veterinary surgery on the farm and in the blacksmith shops of the vicinity. What he lacked in polish and culture and mental equipment was fully compensated for in a wonderful flow of forceful language of a type, however, much better adapted to use in the log camp and on the river during rafting season than on the lecture platform. Squire Henry Hurd once said that the common language of the average Chest Creeker was three-fourths cussing and fancy expletives and the other fourth just plain swearing and John was just a little above the average in the use of both.

He was a versatile chap and could paint quite a sketchy picture of things seen or dreamed of and he had a good strong voice and an abundance of self assurance. Upon his return from the West some of his acquaintances here induced him to deliver a lecture on his observations of the Golden West. John's vanity was touched and he entered into the project very cheerfully and earnestly. Having heard Jack Patton's lecture, he shaped his as nearly the same style as possible for him to do. Taking the title "My Trip to Montana and What I Saw." In fact it was a clever parody on Mr. Patton's popular lecture. And the great contrast between the two men only added to the ludicrousness of the stunt.

The local promoters hired the Opera House and billed the town and the Opera House was well filled for John was well known and they anticipated an amusing entertainment and they were not disappointed. While the Prof.'s observations were sometimes sketchy and vague and others they were certainly vivid enough to please the fancy of anyone.

I recall his description of the soil and its wonderful depth and fertility. He said he took a bar and drilled a hole down into the earth then ran his arm down into the hole fifteen feet and brought as good soil from that depth as could be found on the surface of the best farm in Clearfield county. He had some arm.

The proverbial pitcher and glass on the stand near the speaker had been properly provided by his backers and it soon became apparent that it was of great importance and assistance to the speaker for he resorted to it very frequently, indeed too frequently for long before the lecture was over the Prof. got so heated up with excitement or something he acted as if he thought he was in the midst of a difficult surgical operation on a horse and off came his coat and vest.

That was before the days of Andy Volstead's discovery and the Prof. would not have been an ardent supporter of the 18th Amendment in any event and the pitcher had a goodly supply of ardent spirits instead of town pump water, which was then considered bad for speakers' throats. When asked by some one in the audience why he didn't stay in Montana to enjoy the many good things he had been telling about he replied that the water was nearly all alkali tainted and he just came back to get a good drink, then proceeded to drain the pitcher and bid the audience good night. It is rather difficult to describe but the old timers in town will bear me out when I make the statement as Prof. Mays would say, "Yes sir, gentlemen, she was, most definitely, be Gad."

OLD TIMER.

Invented Fixed Ammunition.

It is to Gustavus Adolphus of Sweden, whose reign began in 1611, that history gives credit for the invention of fixed ammunition. In his cartridges the bullets and the charge were united in a paper case. It was not, however, until 1850 that the first successful metallic cartridge was patented by an American.

ST. JOHN'S GIVES $100 TO NEAR EAST

The Thanksgiving offering in St. John's Lutheran church amounted to $100.00 for Near East Relief and $2 for the Children's Home. The full amount has been sent and will be used for the purpose designated and not for synodical apportionment as previously reported. The appeal for Near East offering had been made several weeks preceding, and since this church had not made an offering for this cause since last May, it was thought best not to stress the appeal for the local institutions at this time. They will be looked after later. St. John's can always be depended upon to do her part. The offering at one of our "Quiet Hour" services last month was given to the orphanage in Mesopotamia. The offering amounted to $21.00. Five dollars was sent to a sickly retired minister.

Cantaloupes and Muskmelon.

A cantaloupe is one variety of muskmelon. When mature it is oblong in shape and has a hard, furrowed rind. The "meat" is of reddish orange color. Often cantaloupes are loosely called muskmelons and vice versa. Technically speaking, muskmelons are of two general types—cantaloupes and outmings. The latter are round with a soft, netted veined rind and green very sweet "meat."

Famous Theater.

In the Place du Palais Royal is the Theatre Francaise, the most famous theater in Paris, and the home of Comedie Francaise. The original building was erected in 1782. Destroyed by fire in 1900. It was immediately rebuilt.

Preserve Decaying Sandstone.

To preserve decaying sandstone against decay, two methods have been suggested that have proved effective. If a piece of rotten sandstone is treated with certain chemical compounds of alcohol and silica and then exposed to moist air, the silica is deposited and forms a protective cement coating. Lime wash has also been found very effective for the same purpose.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Water Creatures Live Long.

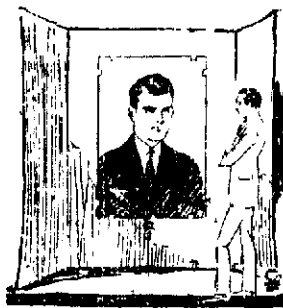

Among fishes and creatures that live in the water, great age is sometimes attained. The carp has been known to live 200 years. Common river trout have been caught in a well 50 to 60 years old. In a lake near Ballona in Sweden, a fish was caught and it was found that it was placed in the lake in the year 1290.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies Are Using
Recipe of Sage Tea and
Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe. Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Make Mother This Gift

We make you families this suggestion: Mother would dearly love to have something that will lighten her household burdens and you can all pool what you were going to give her and make her a present of an EDEN, which will be appreciated every day when she has some washing to do. It matters not what amount she has to do, she can put as few as she likes or she can put the usual weekly wash in the EDEN and save herself hours and hours of work.

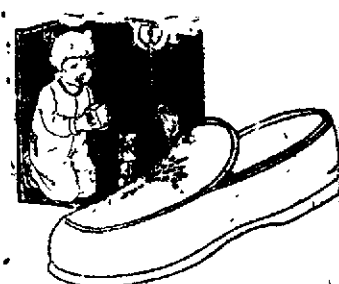

You know, the EDEN is the only mechanical washer that has the sediment zone which catches the dirt and carries it out when the water is drained. Then, there are a number of other features that we would like to explain to you and we can demonstrate either here in the store or in your own kitchen.

Is there a neighborhood quarrel in your community?

At one time did somebody have a quarrel with somebody else of another family and others add fuel to the flames by carrying whispered stories?

If so, better have this condition of affairs adjusted Failure to do so may lead to—yes, even murder.

A dramatic and startling incident was witnessed at the Court House last evening when District Attorney Arnold arose to address the jury in the case against Abram McKee who was later convicted of involuntary manslaughter for the killing of Robert Tabbs.

District Attorney Arnold told the jury that a community feud existed in the Kermoor country and inferred that it had its bearing on the unfortunate happening which sent Robert Tabbs to an untimely death. He reviewed the extent to which this poison has permeated the people of the community without touching on the details of the feud, then turning towards the hundreds of people sitting in the Court Room, he dramatically pointed a condemnatory finger at them and said, "And you people of Kermoor who are here tonight, and who have been a party to this thing in and about Kermoor, go home, and before you go to bed tonight get down on your knees and thank God that you are neither slayer nor slain for you could just as well have been either as McKee and Tabbs."

The above may not be exactly as stated but the point was clearly and decisively made that all who participate in keeping communities in an uproar through petty underhanded whisperings and charges are equally guilty of the consequences.

A bit of insidious gossip is going the rounds now, designed to break down the faith of the people in their elected and appointed officers, particularly those entrusted with the enforcement of the prohibition laws, which must be stopped, and The Progress is in a position to give some facts which ought to put a stop to such nonsense.

A concrete case of such gossip is in the Edwards and Ianaro prosecutions in which it was testified that the officers procuring the evidence were "either drunk or crazy." Admittedly they appeared to be so but they were neither.

They were acting in the capacity of detectives and very well indeed they played their role.

It is a peculiar reasoning that prompts many people to believe that it is an easy thing to catch a bootlegger. It is easy to see the fruits of his work but the law demands that someone see the sale, the transfer of the money and that an analysis of the liquor sold must prove it intoxicating as defined by the law. It is the more peculiar and unreasonable to expect that the conduct of the detector must be exemplary and beyond reproach in every particular. Perhaps their idea would be to have the "dry agent" appear with clerical collar quoting Scripture. A lot of bootleggers he would catch by such methods.

If you know a prohibition agent and see him in company with a bootlegger or any of his lieutenants, perhaps about three sheets in the wind, as the saying goes, remember that he is playing his role and catching the most wily and slippery individual an officer ever had to cope with, but he is doing it with the only means at his command.

Power and Smoothness Unparalleled among Fours

Outstanding among all the impressive features of this car is the smoothness and quietness of its power-flow. Nowhere among four-cylinder cars will you find a performance ability of parallel quality. Even those whose experience has been gained driving high-priced cars with more than four cylinders are bound to be enthusiastic over the steadiness and responsiveness of this Nash Carriole. Only a few of these models are allotted us. See them today.

We are of the opinion that Druggist Lieb holds the champion belt for raising native onions. He has a small chicken garden out on the Nulton road about one mile from town. Among other beds of garden truck he raised three bushels of "Cicopolis" (Italian for onions) the smallest one in three measures weighing almost a pound. They did not have the measly, rank taste of a Bermuda either.

Miss Florence Kelly and her friend Eddie Passmore, returned home yesterday from a three day deer hunt on the mountains. They registered at the Kelly Camp. Miss Kelly has genuine hunting blood in her veins and can handle a gun and fishing rod with the best sportsmen. She is probably the only lady who took the deer trail in this section of the county. She is the same "gal" who waded in the creek and captured a large eel with her bare hands a month or so ago.

As a songster Johnny Norris has his bunch of companions skinned a mile. His entertaining solo between acts at the show on Wednesday night is something that will be talked about in musical circles for several months to come.

The sound of a snow shovel was about all one heard in this town yesterday, the "beautiful" falling to the depth of six or eight inches by night fall. Gee whiz! we never saw so much fun among the kids as they got out of it, while on their way to at evening terminated the two series of home talent entertainments, which was given under the auspices of the Rescue Home and Lad Company. Chief Benner is well liked with the outcome of the final end of it, and the people with pleasure it afforded them. The first members of the past included: McInnes, Clarence Amman, Margaret Hille, Frederick En, Helen Clark, Jessie Pifer, L. Benne and several others, of whom performed their roles veterans. The show was well liked by the patronage, which attended it, and for the short time which the participants had to prepare their parts, proved to be a "sinker."

We note that Bernard T. Myrter, of Grampian, has been made assistant manager under Sam'l P. Bresler, the top manager of the Tora-baugh insurance agency.

James Edmiston received a notice from Camp 6, Tinker Ridge, the other day, that a big, near sighted, non scenting buck was roaming at large in that vicinity. He hunted up his old six-gun, oiled her, strapped a grub stake to his back and hit the trail for Tinker. Hunters report rapid firing from that point and up to this writing "Scottie Jim" and that old buck are still playing a "hide-go-seek" game among the laurel patches.

This evening at the High School gym, the local basketball season will open when Clearfield High will meet the Collegians of Clearfield.

The Collegian team is composed of former C. H. S. stars and other ex-

Your Government To Cost You Less

With the help of the Budget Bureau, with the cooperation of Congress, with the aid of continual prodding from the White House, the United States Government seems at last to be in a happy way financially. When the newspaper editors read the message President Harding submitted to Congress along with the budget for the next fiscal year, even the Democrats promptly sat down and wrote cheerful, happy, and congratulatory editorials. For they learned that this prodigal Government of ours has in three years cut down its expenditures from a six-billion-dollar to a three-billion-dollar basis; that it is going to spend half a billion dollars less in the next fiscal year than in the present; that the expected $600,000,000 deficit for 1923 has already been cut down by half and, since it is only December, may very well be wiped out altogether by the end of the year on June 30; and finally, that the official Budget Bureau estimates for the fiscal year ending in 1924, indicate a substantial surplus of $180,969,125.

You will read in THE LITERARY DIGEST this week, December 16th, how the reduction in government expenses has been effected, what activities have been curtailed, and what the probable effects upon the tax-payer may be. Other instructive news-articles in this week's issue of THE DIGEST are:

GIRLS, SHINY NOSE WILL LAND YOU JOB WHEN ROUGE FAILS

By Josephine Van de Grift
NEA Service Staff Writer.
New York, Dec. 15.—There's no virtue in a shiny nose—

But the old-fashioned girl whose shirtwaist is fairly opaque, whose hair is combed demurely and whose face is innocent of rouge or lipstick still has the best chance of landing a job.

Miss Jeannette Charash who yearly places thousands of girls in secretarial positions says so.

Morality? Not a bit of it. It's just plain business sense. And then Miss Charash explains:

"A girl may be the best stenographer in the world but if she totters into an office on a pair of high heels and raises to her prospective boss a face too generously rouged, that man will infer she is a girl who pays more attention to her appearance than to her work.

"At first glance one can't tell how much is inside a girl's head. But by the way she removes her hat, by her attitude toward taking the tests I can tell whether a girl is disciplined, whether she is gracious in her manner, whether she is accurate, neat and reliable.

"By her entrance into my office, by the manner in which she asks for a job or shows me her letters of introduction I can determine whether she has the tact necessary for a good private secretary."

As proof that her system works, Miss Charash points out that 95 per cent. of the girls she places stay put.

DON'T
HERE are Miss Charash's "don'ts" for girls seeking secretarial positions:

DON'T dress conspicuously or use make-up.

DON'T, if you are told to report at 9 o'clock, attempt to force yourself upon the person's attention earlier.

DON'T fling letters of introduction down on the desk carelessly.

DON'T try to get a job in a bank just because your folks think it's respectable.

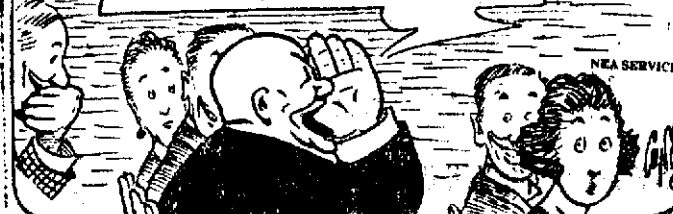

DON'T lose your poise.

June, Month of Suicides.
The maximum of suicides occur in June and the minimum in December. Germany holds the record for this sort of thing, while the Slavs are the least predisposed to kill themselves. Following Germany in number of suicides come France and England.

Children Conduct Church Services.
Services for children are conducted by children at All Saints' church, Stratford Hill, London. Except in the prayers and address, grown-ups have nothing to do with the services. Children toll the bell, play the organ, read the lessons and take the offertory.

Makes Opportunity.
The man who habitually waits for something to turn up usually fails to see a good chance when it arrives. Only the man who "hustles while he waits" is likely to appreciate his opportunity when it comes. Wise men make their opportunities.

What's Rheumatism? Pain only. Stop drugging! Not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" directly upon the "under spot" and relief comes instantly. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism and sciatica liniment, which never disappoints and cannot burn the skin. Limber up! Quit complaining! Get a small trial bottle from your druggist, and in just a moment you'll be free from rheumatic and sciatic pain, soreness, stiffness and swelling. Don't suffer! Relief awaits you. Old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" has relieved millions of rheumatism sufferers in the last half century, and is just as good for sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago, backache, sprains, and swellings.

EASIER FOR A MAN
TO GET A DIVORCE
THAN A WOMAN

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 15. (U. P.)—It is easier for a man to obtain a divorce in Pennsylvania than a woman, according to Miss Anita Pollitzer, of the National Women's Party.

"In Pennsylvania there is a decided distinction between the husband and wife when applying for a divorce," she said. "It is only necessary for the husband to prove his wife has rendered his condition intolerable or life burdensome to secure a divorce, whereas the wife must prove that her husband has injured her life."

"Our aim is to remove all discrimination against women in public and private life. Out of 400 general hospitals, only 40 admit women as internes. In 19 states, the women are required to support their husbands in some way or other and in 24 states women are required to support their children."

"The wife is still considered the presumed factor of her husband—the head of his domestic cabinet. The husband in many cases still has the right to select the family domicile. Husbands in Pennsylvania today are owners of their wife's persons, society, time and service."

"We have made some progress, however," Miss Pollitzer said. "In six states, husband and wife are equally liable for the support of the children—this is civil liability. In 27 states life burdensome to secure a divorce, there is the same criminal liability for the husband as for the wife. In 12 states the wife may be required to pay alimony or its equivalent."

"Pennsylvania is worse than any state I have been in lately in this respect."

These are the facts. The husband is the head of the family. He is the one who is responsible for the support of the family. The wife is the one who is responsible for the support of the husband. The husband is the one who is responsible for the support of the family. The wife is the one who is responsible for the support of the husband.

Old superstition. The origin of the superstition that green is unlucky has in the fact that green is the color of the forest which in primitive days was full of wild beasts. People naturally looked upon the forest as being unlucky.

May have to do them. Wise is the employer who knows how to do things he hires others to do.

Penn State Students
Of Clearfield County
Coming Home this Week

The 40 students from Clearfield county who are attending the Pennsylvania State College this year will arrive at their homes this week-end for the Christmas vacation. The holiday recess this year is longer than usual, extending from December 15 to January 3, to accommodate the many students who depend upon work during the vacation to defray a part of their college expenses.

There are probably more students from this county at Penn State this year than in any previous year. Every county in Pennsylvania is represented in the Penn State student body of 3300 men and women. In addition to 90 per cent of the students themselves pledging $100 each to the college emergency building fund now in progress, many of them will seek additional fund pledges in their home towns during the vacation. The $2,000,000 fund is to provide health and welfare facilities for the students, and they are among the most active workers in its behalf.

A number of the students from this county have notified President John M. Thomas that they will make every effort to secure at least $1000 each for the campaign fund before they return to classes in January. The campaign progress thus far has indicated that Penn State has hundreds of friends and practically all who have been approached by the limited staff of alumni workers have contributed. The students volunteered to increase the staff of workers and if successful in their vacation attempt, should add at least half a million to the fund.

The following students from Clearfield county are enrolled in the Pennsylvania State College this year:

Seniors—David Fleck, John Patterson, Aaron Dowler, and Philip Shilein, Clearfield; Austin Blake-lee DuBois, Benjamin H. Byers, Coal-port, Miss Minnie L. McKean Falls Creek, Howard A. Matton Osceola Mills.

Juniors—Byron Chaplin, Edmund G. Price, Clearfield, Emory G. Bevilacqua, Morann, James A. Dax, David Mahaffey, Leslie C. Hagar, Coalport, Miss Alice K. Milson, Allport, David R. Mitchell, Bell Landing, Miss Dorothy Ruth Smithers, DuBois, Miss Mary S. Haug, Troutville, John L.

That Theory Won't Do. A humorous remark that in view of the fuss a woman makes over a tiny mouse he is inclined to believe that the sequel to a woman's life is only thing which is a theory is that an applicant for a job doesn't try to one to eat the apple—Boston Globe.

Murder Will Out. There is one thing about the movies. When a character gets murdered he doesn't take any more calls—Brownings Magazine.

The Psychological Moment. She—"Now is the time to ask papa." He (with cold feet)—"Why now?" She—"The cook talks of leaving because our family is too large. Pull it off, anything to induce her to stay."

How Qualifications. Wayne has a puppy, and to tease him his brother told him it was too little to bite. "Well, maybe I am a bit big enough to bite yet," he defended; "but he can bark just as loud as any big dog, and that's better to bite."

There's the Rub. A lot of people think they would be happier in this world if there weren't so many things they want they can't have.

postoffices where registered and in the case of unregistered certificates, at money-order post offices, Federal Reserve Banks and branches. Arrangements may be made with local banks for this exchange, but the places mentioned above are the only ones recognized by the government as official.

Treasury officials hope that at least half of the $625,000,000 of outstanding war savings stamp certificates will be exchanged for the new certificates. The exchange will greatly aid the refunding activities of the Treasury and will obviate the immediate paying out of cash, which it is desired to avoid until the war time humps in public debt are smoothed out.

History in History

It is a little bit of history when hats were first worn and there is no record as to where or when the first hat was made. The first modern hat, as you know this article of men's wear, was made in Paris in 1404 by a Swiss manufacturer. But it was not until 18 years thereafter that the French adopted the sort of a head covering

Various Species of Mint

There are 12 species of mint growing in America. The most important is the Spearmint or garden mint used for making tea and for flavoring chewing gum. Another is the Peppermint which is flavored and mentholated, and is used in medicine and in flavoring. The third is the Lemon balm, whose lemon-scented leaves give a fragrant oil when used in perfumes.

POTTED PLANTS

You will find that nothing you can give will bring as much cheer and real Xmas spirit to some person than a fine potted plant.

And if you could see our house right now with the after-Christmas plants, some of them are in bloom and others that are beautiful just for the foliage, you would know of someone who would like to have one Xmas morning.

We will have a fine delivery service for you. And do you know that you can send flowers to some distant friend by wire and have them arrive fresh and beautiful? Ask us about it.

Or n of "Parson"
The "Parson" was once pronounced like "a" (Englishmen still say clerk to home with dark) and person was pronounced person. Because he was usually the most distinguished individual in the parish, the clergyman became "the person," or as we now say, the parson.

GOVERNORS REFUSE TO BE HOGTIED BY GOVERNOR PARKER

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Dec. 15.—The governor's conference here will refuse to take a stand either on prohibition enforcement or the Ku Klux Klan, it has been definitely decided by the executive committee of the organization of which Governor Sproul of Pennsylvania is chairman. Governor Sproul and the other members of the Executive Committee have flatly rejected the demand of Governor Parker of Louisiana that the conference adopt resolutions on both subjects.

It is believed that the majority of the governors' present believe that the conference should be for open discussion of state problems and not for the purpose of wielding influence through resolute action and since Governor Parker came into the conference with the express purpose of fighting the Ku Klux Klan and kicking against the prohibition amendment at the same time it was thought best to dismiss the proposition until after the conference called by President Harding for some time in January is call.

GRANGE ENDORSES 25 MILLION BOND ISSUE FOR FOREST

Williamsport, Pa., Dec. 15.—The Pennsylvania State Grange, in annual session in this city, this morning passed a resolution endorsing the proposed $25,000,000 bond issue to provide funds for an extension of the Pennsylvania state forest system to include all non-productive forest lands.

A resolution to this effect was included in a report submitted over the signature of Governor-elect Gifford Pinchot, who is chairman of the standing committee on forestry and conservation, and which report was authorized by the Grange in its session of five years ago.

The Grangers gave their support to the resolution, pointing out the revenues from state forests enter the school funds of the state and claiming that if the state forests would be made to include all available non-productive lands the expense of the public school system could be met from revenues thus derived from these lands are made productive.

Another resolution called for the setting of the date for the next state session to conform with the National Grange sessions, which will be held in this state next year, and appropriating $5,000 towards the expense of the National Grange session.

An impressive memorial service was held this morning in tribute to Mrs. Adda Miller, of Erie county, lady assistant steward, and John A. Campbell, of Wellesboro, former Steward of the State Grange.

NOTED SPEAKER ON CHURCH ILLS DID NOT ARRIVE HERE

"What's the Matter with the Church?"

This was the subject for a dissertation by a noted speaker billed for the Presbyterian church last evening and practically every seat was filled at the hour announced. In addition to the bringing of an expert on church ills to Clearfield the church people had prepared an elegant lunch of sandwiches, coffee and ice cream in the church dining room and a great social time was anticipated by all.

However, those who attend are still in darkness as to what is the matter with the church, if anything is the matter with it, and judging from the fellowship and fine spirit existing last evening, we don't think it is very serious. For the New York Central train coming up from Williamsport ran true to form and got held up behind a freight wreck down at Cato and the speaker of the evening had to stay down there in the mountains until near the midnight hour before the train was put in motion.

When Dr. Reave announced the unfortunate turn of affairs, which he did in a heavy and most novel manner, it was a decided disappointment to the audience, but a few songs and a solo by Miss Jean Flannery soon dispelled the gloom and the lunch which almost miraculously proved to enjoy completely routed the disappointment.

An effort will be made to bring this man here again and an earnest audience will be ready for him.

VERDICT ON M'KEE IS INVOLUNTARY MANSLAUGHTER

MINIMUM ONE DAY

All of yesterday's news taken up court by the trial of Abram McKee charged with manslaughter, in the slaying of Robert Tubbs, a fellow worker on the section near Kerrmoor when the two men were arguing and fought over various matters.

There was some little difference the testimony of fellow workmen to what actually transpired between the two men when the assault on the heavy shovel was made but it was indeed little to indicate that McKee intended to do much harm.

Throughout the trial it became apparent that feeling between the families in the Kerrmoor community for several months has not been of nature to make a peace-loving, law-abiding community and these family feuds cropped out in gangs of players in the fields and in the mines. Several times it was inferred that this feud had a bearing on the unfortunate altercation which cost the life of Robert Tubbs.

Mr. McKee made an excellent news for himself. He declared his mind a blank when he struck his fellow worker and he was very reticent to discuss the personal relationship existed between himself and the victim. He refused to attempt to make his defense self-defense, gave an elegant impression of a man who was not without brains.

The prosecution, in making McKee give his best effort at anything in the law that could make in his favor owing to McKee's attitude after the slaying, having told the story straight forwardly in a manly fashion, to conduct of the trial there was no tempt made to paint McKee as a body else than an outstanding citizen without a blemish prior to the case on the section.

Attorney for the defense, masterfully plea to the defendant, calling his fine record as a citizen, holding his little family of six children together since the death of his mother six years ago, of his mother father and mother to them, the mental anguish he has since the slaying.

District Attorney Arnold stated his closing remarks to the jury in all his experience he had never presented a case in which there were so many heartrending circumstances and re-affirmed his sympathy for the defendant. His charge to the jury was, however, that sympathy must not be the deciding factor, but a life had been taken and a man's life was admitted and that the oath the jury had taken could do no other than render a verdict of guilty.

The case was given to the jury the night session which terminated about eleven o'clock and by midnight the jury had returned a verdict of guilty on the indictment of involuntary manslaughter. The penalty under this verdict can be for any period from one day to two years.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 15.—Representative Keller of Minnesota, author of the impeachment resolution against Attorney General Daugherty, today defied the House Judiciary Committee.

Keller refused to appear before the committee in answer to a subpoena. Issuance of the subpoena followed an acrimonious wrangle between Representative Keller and the House Committee members last night which was precipitated when Keller attempted to read a statement in which he charged the committee with attempting to "whitewash" the Attorney General.

The committee voted today to go ahead with the impeachment proceedings despite the absence of Representative Keller.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 15.—The first farm credit measure was brought before the Senate today when the Agricultural Committee decided to report favorably the Norris bill. The measure provides for the establishing of a one million dollar government corporation to supply credit to farmers in an effort to alleviate the distressing condition in which the farmers of the nation find themselves.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 15.—A high official of the United States government today authorized the statement that American participation in European tangled affairs was not far distant and that the United States would very soon initiate an action, the results of which would be most far reaching.

He also declared that Ambassador Harvey would be called to Washington for a consultation with President Harding and Secretary Hughes in regard to European affairs.

PRIVATE LIVES OF MOVIE STARS BEING THOROLY SEARCHED

New York, N. Y., Dec. 15.—A quiet and searching investigation into the private lives of the great movie stars is understood to have been sanctioned by Will Hays, czar of the movies, since the probe into the activities of the national drug ring on whose books are said to have been found the names of some of these stars as customers. Mr. Hays today said that he did not intend to become a detective or was not interested in what had been but was exerting his efforts toward creating a healthy atmosphere in Hollywood and other big movie centers and gave it as his opinion that a great deal of the hinted scandal about such places was without foundation of fact.

Producers are known to be investigating the private lives of some of their stars and at least one of the scintillating lights is known to have been called before his producer to answer to charges of having drunk to excess and using drugs. It is declared that he denied both charges and that a physician was called who examined the man for the telltale mark of the needle but no evidence of his guilt was found.

Millionaire "Red" Stuck For Haywood And His Pal's Bail

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 15.—The $20,000 bail bonds of Big Bill Haywood and Henry Rothfischer who escaped to Russia after having been indicted for violation of the espionage acts was declared forfeited today by the Federal Court. The bondsman is William Bross Lloyd, millionaire "red" who recently served time on similar charges. If the money is not paid over in ten days the government will sell the palatial Lloyd home.

VAN SWERINGEN INTERESTS GET AN OPTION ON C. & O.

New York City, Dec. 15.—The Van Sweringen Company of Cleveland, Ohio, who operate the New York, Chicago and St. Louis, the Toledo, St. Louis and Western and Lake Erie and Western railroads, hold an option which if taken up will result in the firm controlling the Chesapeake and Ohio, according to reports in financial circles today. According to these reports the option is on the holdings of Edward Huntington, chairman of the Chesapeake & Ohio, and control of the road goes with these holdings.

LEGION WILL MAKE DRIVE FOR 100,000 MEMBERS NEXT YEAR

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 15. (U. P.)—A drive to increase the membership of the American Legion to 100,000 will be launched in 1923, according to plans of the State organization.

Alvin Owsley, of Texas, National Commander of the American Legion will tour Pennsylvania next winter to aid in the intensive campaign for increased membership.

Gilbert G. Jacoby, department adjutant of the American Legion, has sent messages to the 667 posts in the state all veterans desiring vocational training and have not made application must do so under present laws before December 15, 1922.

Ex-service men and women who wait until after this date will forfeit their right of receiving this government training. Where the post mark of the application shows that it was mailed on or before December 15, the application will be considered.

"OLD BEECHER," DEAN OF ALL BUCKDOM, WHO OUT-GENERATED GOSHEN HUNTERS FOR YEARS, BROUGHT DOWN YESTERDAY

There is joy about Goshen Camp these days and well do they have a right to be proud. For several years the hunters who spend two weeks there every year have reported seeing a stately ten point buck and about every member has had a shot or two at the old fellow but he has always been too well acquainted with the hills and valleys and underbrush to be trapped or driven out to the crossings where he would have been easy prey to the rifle bullets.

Yesterday "Old Beecher" as he has affectionately been called for at least five years was outwitted by Charles Franzen of Clearfield who says he has felt it in his bones all along that he would get him some day.

There is no mistaking that the deer gotten by Franzen was "Old Beecher" as an examination of his teeth shows the gold fillings put here by Doc Ch. some three or four years ago while Doc was spending some time there out of season at which time the best of feelings existed between Doc and the denizens of the wild.

MOTHER AND SON MURDERED AFTER BATTLE IN HOME

New York City, Dec. 15.—Mrs. Anna Cataldo, aged thirty, and her son Fred, aged nine, were murdered at their Stillwell avenue home on the Twenty Island by an unknown Italian who stabbed them to death then set fire to the house. The bodies of the two were found on the kitchen floor by firemen who responded to the fire alarm. The room was in disorder and looked as though the woman had put up a desperate battle for the life of herself and little son.

Mr. and Mrs. Zerfoss and Miss Katharine Zerfoss have just returned from Harrisburg where they were called on account of the death of Mrs. Zerfoss' mother.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

The title of the lecture on "My Trip Around the World," delivered on Tuesday evening last at the High School building reminds some of our old timers of one of the cleverest stunts ever staged and pulled off in Clearfield. Back in the early seventies, shortly after graduating at Yale, the late Hon. John "Jack" Patton, then of Cuyahoga, later U. S. Senator from Michigan, made a trip abroad and on his return delivered a lecture at the county institute. His subject was entitled "My Trip to Europe and What I Saw." Mr. Patton was a finished orator and scholarly gentleman, a good observer and gave a fine entertaining lecture, which was later delivered in different sections of the country, for he and his lecture were both popular and pleasing. He left here shortly after that and engaged in the practice of law at Grand Rapids, Mich., where he was eminently successful.

Not long after that Prof. John Mays of Jordan township, the famous veterinary surgeon, with a colony of people from that section of the county went west to Montana where they took up homesteads and settled. But the country being very new and sparsely settled, there wasn't enough work in Prof. Mays' line to keep him employed and he soon returned to his native hearth.

Prof. Mays was a graduate of Some College of the upper reaches of Chest and Clearfield Creeks and he obtained his degree in veterinary surgery on the farm and in the blacksmith shops of the vicinity. What he lacked in polish and culture and mental equipment was fully compensated for in a wonderful flow of forceful language of a type, however, much better adapted to use in the log camp and on the river during rafting season than on the lecture platform. Squire Henry Hurd once said that the common language of the average Chest Creeker was three-fourths cussing and fancy expletives and the other fourth just plain swearing and John was just a little above the average in the use of both.

He was a versatile chap and could paint quite a sketchy picture of things seen or dreamed of and he had a good strong voice and an abundance of self assurance. Upon his return from the West some of his acquaintances here induced him to deliver a lecture on his observations of the Golden West. John's vanity was touched and he entered into the project very cheerfully and earnestly. Having heard Jack Patton's lecture, he shaped his as nearly the same style as possible for him to do. Taking the title "My Trip to Montana and What I Saw." In fact it was a clever parody on Mr. Patton's popular lecture. And the great contrast between the two men only added to the ludicrousness of the stunt.

The local promoters hired the Opera House and billed the town and the Opera House was well filled for John was well known and they anticipated an amusing entertainment and they were not disappointed. While the Prof.'s observations were sometimes sketchy and vague and others they were certainly vivid enough to please the fancy of anyone.

I recall his description of the soil and its wonderful depth and fertility. He said he took a bar and drilled a hole down into the earth then ran his arm down into the hole fifteen feet and brought as good soil from that depth as could be found on the surface of the best farm in Clearfield county. He had some arm.

The proverbial pitcher and glass on the stand near the speaker had been properly provided by his backers and it soon became apparent that it was of great importance and assistance to the speaker for he resorted to it very frequently, indeed too frequently for long before the lecture was over the Prof. got so heated up with excitement or something he acted as if he thought he was in the midst of a difficult surgical operation on a horse and off came his coat and vest.

That was before the days of Andy Volstead's discovery and the Prof. would not have been an ardent supporter of the 18th Amendment in any event and the pitcher had a goodly supply of ardent spirits instead of town pump water, which was then considered bad for speakers' throats. When asked by some one in the audience why he didn't stay in Montana to enjoy the many good things he had been telling about he replied that the water was nearly all alkali tainted and he just came back to get a good drink, then proceeded to drain the pitcher and bid the audience good night. It is rather difficult to describe but the old timers in town will bear me out when I make the statement as Prof. Mays would say, "Yes sir, gentlemen, she was, most definitely, be Gad."

OLD TIMER.

Invented Fixed Ammunition.

It is to Gustavus Adolphus of Sweden, whose reign began in 1611, that history gives credit for the invention of fixed ammunition. In his cartridges the bullets and the charge were united in a paper case. It was not, however, until 1850 that the first successful metallic cartridge was patented by an American.

ST. JOHN'S GIVES $100 TO NEAR EAST

The Thanksgiving offering in St. John's Lutheran church amounted to $100.00 for Near East Relief and $2 for the Children's Home. The full amount has been sent and will be used for the purpose designated and not for synodical apportionment as previously reported. The appeal for Near East offering had been made several weeks preceding, and since this church had not made an offering for this cause since last May, it was thought best not to stress the appeal for the local institutions at this time. They will be looked after later. St. John's can always be depended upon to do her part. The offering at one of our "Quiet Hour" services last month was given to the orphanage in Mesopotamia. The offering amounted to $21.00. Five dollars was sent to a sickly retired minister.

Cantaloupes and Muskmelon.

A cantaloupe is one variety of muskmelon. When mature it is oblong in shape and has a hard, furrowed rind. The "meat" is of reddish orange color. Often cantaloupes are loosely called muskmelons and vice versa. Technically speaking, muskmelons are of two general types—cantaloupes and outmings. The latter are round with a soft, netted veined rind and green very sweet "meat."

Famous Theater.

In the Place du Palais Royal is the Theatre Francaise, the most famous theater in Paris, and the home of Comedie Francaise. The original building was erected in 1782. Destroyed by fire in 1900. It was immediately rebuilt.

Preserve Decaying Sandstone.

To preserve decaying sandstone against decay, two methods have been suggested that have proved effective. If a piece of rotten sandstone is treated with certain chemical compounds of alcohol and silica and then exposed to moist air, the silica is deposited and forms a protective cement coating. Lime wash has also been found very effective for the same purpose.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Water Creatures Live Long.

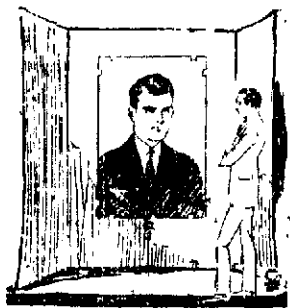

Among fishes and creatures that live in the water, great age is sometimes attained. The carp has been known to live 200 years. Common river trout have been caught in a well 50 to 60 years old. In a lake near Balltown in Sweden, a fish was caught and attached to a record that it was placed in the lake in the year 1290.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies Are Using
Recipe of Sage Tea and
Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe. Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Make Mother This Gift

We make you families this suggestion: Mother would dearly love to have something that will lighten her household burdens and you can all pool what you were going to give her and make her a present of an EDEN, which will be appreciated every day when she has some washing to do. It matters not what amount she has to do, she can put as few as she likes or she can put the usual weekly wash in the EDEN and save herself hours and hours of work.

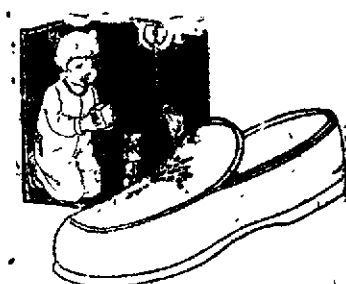

You know, the EDEN is the only mechanical washer that has the sediment zone which catches the dirt and carries it out when the water is drained. Then, there are a number of other features that we would like to explain to you and we can demonstrate either here in the store or in your own kitchen.

Is there a neighborhood quarrel in your community?

At one time did somebody have a quarrel with somebody else of another family and others add fuel to the flames by carrying whispered stories?

If so, better have this condition of affairs adjusted Failure to do so may lead to—yes, even murder.

A dramatic and startling incident was witnessed at the Court House last evening when District Attorney Arnold arose to address the jury in the case against Abram McKee who was later convicted of involuntary manslaughter for the killing of Robert Tabbs.

District Attorney Arnold told the jury that a community feud existed in the Kermoor country and inferred that it had its bearing on the unfortunate happening which sent Robert Tabbs to an untimely death. He reviewed the extent to which this poison has permeated the people of the community without touching on the details of the feud, then turning towards the hundreds of people sitting in the Court Room, he dramatically pointed a condemnatory finger at them and said, "And you people of Kermoor who are here tonight, and who have been a party to this thing in and about Kermoor, go home, and before you go to bed tonight get down on your knees and thank God that you are neither slayer nor slain for you could just as well have been either as McKee and Tabbs."

The above may not be exactly as stated but the point was clearly and decisively made that all who participate in keeping communities in an uproar through petty underhanded whisperings and charges are equally guilty of the consequences.

A bit of insidious gossip is going the rounds now, designed to break down the faith of the people in their elected and appointed officers, particularly those entrusted with the enforcement of the prohibition laws, which must be stopped, and The Progress is in a position to give some facts which ought to put a stop to such nonsense.

A concrete case of such gossip is in the Edwards and Ianaro prosecutions in which it was testified that the officers procuring the evidence were "either drunk or crazy." Admittedly they appeared to be so but they were neither.

They were acting in the capacity of detectives and very well indeed they played their role.

It is a peculiar reasoning that prompts many people to believe that it is an easy thing to catch a bootlegger. It is easy to see the fruits of his work but the law demands that someone see the sale, the transfer of the money and that an analysis of the liquor sold must prove it intoxicating as defined by the law. It is the more peculiar and unreasonable to expect that the conduct of the detector must be exemplary and beyond reproach in every particular. Perhaps their idea would be to have the "dry agent" appear with clerical collar quoting Scripture. A lot of bootleggers he would catch by such methods.

If you know a prohibition agent and see him in company with a bootlegger or any of his lieutenants, perhaps about three sheets in the wind, as the saying goes, remember that he is playing his role and catching the most wily and slippery individual an officer ever had to cope with, but he is doing it with the only means at his command.

COINONIA CLUB

Holds tonight in Trinity Methodist church its annual meeting. The gathering is to be a composite one varied and interesting enough. The chief business centers in the election of officers. Then the program period which has in its numbers a review of some "Curious Capers of a Confiding Clergyman" given by one that knows. And the ladies of Mr. A. H. Woodward's class will serve the refreshments. This is to be a veritable round up with a good time and a look at some Capital C's.

We are of the opinion that Druggist Lieb holds the champion belt for raising native onions. He has a small chicken garden out on the Nulton road about one mile from town. Among other beds of garden truck he raised three bushels of "Cicopolis" (Italian for onions) the smallest one in three measures weighing almost a pound. They did not have the measly, rank taste of a Bermuda either.

Miss Florence Kelly and her friend Eddie Passmore, returned home yesterday from a three day deer hunt on the mountains. They registered at the Kelly Camp. Miss Kelly has genuine hunting blood in her veins and can handle a gun and fishing rod with the best sportsmen. She is probably the only lady who took the deer trail in this section of the county. She is the same "gal" who waded in the creek and captured a large eel with her bare hands a month or so ago.

Chief Benner is well liked with the outcome of the final end of it, and the people with pleasure it afforded them. The first members of the past included: McInnes, Clarence Amman, Margaret Hille, Frederickson, Helen Clark, Jessie Pifer, L. Benne and several others, of whom performed their roles veterans. The show was well liked by the patronage, which attended it, and for the short time which the participants had to prepare their parts, proved to be a "sinker."

We note that Bernard T. Myrter, of Grampian, has been made assistant manager under Sam'l P. Bresler, the top manager of the Tora-baugh insurance agency.

James Edmiston received a notice from Camp 6, Tinker Ridge, the other day, that a big, near sighted, non scenting buck was roaming at large in that vicinity. He hunted up his old six-gun, oiled her, strapped a grub stake to his back and hit the grub for Tinker. Hunters report rapid firing from that point and up to this writing "Scottie Jim" and that old buck are still playing a "hide-go-seek" game among the laurel patches.

Your Government
To Cost You Less

With the help of the Budget Bureau, with the cooperation of Congress, with the aid of continual prodding from the White House, the United States Government seems at last to be in a happy way financially. When the newspaper editors read the message President Harding submitted to Congress along with the budget for the next fiscal year, even the Democrats promptly sat down and wrote cheerful, happy, and congratulatory editorials. For they learned that this prodigal Government of ours has in three years cut down its expenditures from a six-billion-dollar to a three-billion-dollar basis; that it is going to spend half a billion dollars less in the next fiscal year than in the present; that the expected $600,000,000 deficit for 1923 has already been cut down by half and, since it is only December, may very well be wiped out altogether by the end of the year on June 30; and finally, that the official Budget Bureau estimates for the fiscal year ending in 1924, indicate a substantial surplus of $180,969,125.

You will read in THE LITERARY DIGEST this week, December 16th, how the reduction in government expenses has been effected, what activities have been curtailed, and what the probable effects upon the tax-payer may be. Other instructive news-articles in this week's issue of THE DIGEST are:

care of all the trade in the repair line.

We are of the opinion that Druggist Lieb holds the champion belt for raising native onions. He has a small chicken garden out on the Naylor road about one mile from town. Among other beds of garden truck he raised three bushels of "Cienfuegos" (Italian for onions) the smallest one in three measures weighing almost a pound. They did not have the measly, rank taste of a Bermuda either.

Miss Florence Kelly and her friend Eddie Passmore, returned home yesterday from a three day deer hunt on the mountains. They registered at the Kelly Camp. Miss Kelly has genuine hunting blood in her veins and can handle a gun and fishing rod with the best sportsmen. She is probably the only lady who took the deer trail in this section of the county. She is the same "gal" who waded in the creek and captured a large eel with her bare hands a month or so ago.

We note that Bernard T. Myer, of Grampian, has been made assistant manager under Sam'l P. Bressler, the top manager of the Forabaugh insurance agency.

James Edmiston received a notice from Camp 6, Tinker Ridge, the other day, that a big, near sighted, non scenting buck was roaming at large in that vicinity. He hunted up his old six-gun, oiled her, strapped a grub stake to his back and hit the grit for Tinker. Hunters report rapid firing from that point and up to this writing "Scottie Jim" and that old buck are still playing a "hide-go-seek" game among the laurel patches.

Your Government To Cost You Less

With the help of the Budget Bureau, with the cooperation of Congress, with the aid of continual prodding from the White House, the United States Government seems at last to be in a happy way financially. When the newspaper editors read the message President Harding submitted to Congress along with the budget for the next fiscal year, even the Democrats promptly sat down and wrote cheerful, happy, and congratulatory editorials. For they learned that this prodigal Government of ours has in three years cut down its expenditures from a six-billion-dollar to a three-billion-dollar basis; that it is going to spend half a billion dollars less in the next fiscal year than in the present; that the expected $600,000,000 deficit for 1923 has already been cut down by half and, since it is only December, may very well be wiped out altogether by the end of the year on June 30; and finally, that the official Budget Bureau estimates for the fiscal year ending in 1924, indicate a substantial surplus of $180,969,125.

You will read in THE LITERARY DIGEST this week, December 16th, how the reduction in government expenses has been effected, what activities have been curtailed, and what the probable effects upon the tax-payer may be. Other instructive news-articles in this week's issue of THE DIGEST are:

GIRLS, SHINY NOSE WILL LAND YOU JOB WHEN ROUGE FAILS

By Josephine Van de Grift
NEA Service Staff Writer.
New York, Dec. 15.—There's no virtue in a shiny nose—

But the old-fashioned girl whose shirtwaist is fairly opaque, whose hair is combed demurely and whose face is innocent of rouge or lipstick still has the best chance of landing a job.

Miss Jeannette Charash who yearly places thousands of girls in secretarial positions says so.

Morality? Not a bit of it. It's just plain business sense. And then Miss Charash explains:

"A girl may be the best stenographer in the world but if she totters into an office on a pair of high heels and raises to her prospective boss a face too generously rouged, that man will infer she is a girl who pays more attention to her appearance than to her work.

"At first glance one can't tell how much is inside a girl's head. But by the way she removes her hat, by her attitude toward taking the tests I can tell whether a girl is disciplined, whether she is gracious in her manner, whether she is accurate, neat and reliable.

"By her entrance into my office, by the manner in which she asks for a job or shows me her letters of introduction I can determine whether she has the tact necessary for a good private secretary."

As proof that her system works, Miss Charash points out that 95 per cent. of the girls she places stay put.

DON'T
HERE are Miss Charash's "don'ts" for girls seeking secretarial positions:

DON'T dress conspicuously or use make-up.

DON'T, if you are told to report at 9 o'clock, attempt to force yourself upon the person's attention earlier.

DON'T fling letters of introduction down on the desk carelessly.

DON'T try to get a job in a bank just because your folks think it's respectable.

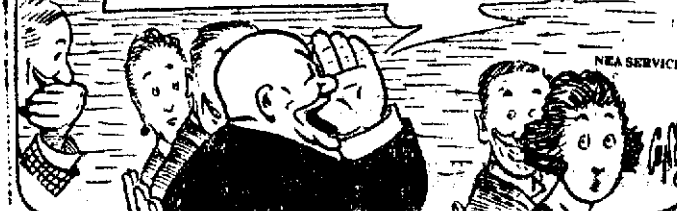

DON'T lose your poise.

Children Conduct Church Services.

Services for children are conducted by children at All Saints' church, Stratford Hill, London. Except in the prayers and address, grown-ups have nothing to do with the services. Children toll the bell, play the organ, read the lessons and take the offertory.

Makes Opportunity.

The man who habitually waits for something to turn up usually fails to see a good chance when it arrives. Only the man who "hustles while he waits" is likely to appreciate his opportunity when it comes. Wise men make their opportunities.

Owners Of War Savings Stamps Can Get Money

Washington, Dec. 15. (U. P.)—The owners of War Savings Stamps of 918 series will become eligible for 1 to "cash in" their stamps at full value, $5.

Treasury officials are preparing to $625,000,000 from the debit side of the Sam's ledger, or transfer a of it to another account.

Method of redemption are offered by the Treasury, cash redemption or exchange for Treasury certificates similar to the stamp certificates.

Prerequisite to either method is the filling out of a P. D. 750, copies of which are obtained at any postoffice, Federal Reserve Bank, from Treasury, and possibly from local holders of stamps who desire cash follow the following rules:

Their certificates are registered, must be presented to the postoffice, Federal Reserve Bank, from Treasury, and possibly from local holders of stamps who desire cash follow the following rules:

Immediate cash redemption at any postoffice, Federal Reserve Bank, from Treasury, and possibly from local

The Other Plan. For persons who desire to keep their money in government investments may exchange their stamps for the new issue of Treasury certificates.

Government financiers urge exchange to afford relief to the Treasury's cash assets. These certificates are issued in denominations of $25, $100 and $1,000. Owners of stamps may exchange them for these certificates at $20.50 for the $25 certificate, $82 for the $100, and $810 for the $1,000. The difference between the old and new certificates will be paid in cash. Five years from date of purchase, the certificates are payable at face value. Owners of the certificates may obtain at any time prior to maturity principal plus interest at 3 per cent, up to that date. All these certificates will be registered in Washington and will thus be practically "proof."

Exchange of stamp certificates for cash certificates may be made, in case of registered certificates, at postoffices where registered and in the case of unregistered certificates, at money-order post offices, Federal Reserve Banks and branches. Arrangements may be made with local banks for this exchange, but the places mentioned above are the only ones recognized by the government as official.

Treasury officials hope that at least half of the $625,000,000 of outstanding war savings stamp certificates will be exchanged for the new certificates. The exchange will greatly aid the refunding activities of the Treasury and will obviate the immediate paying out of cash, which it is desired to avoid until the war time humps in public debt are smoothed out.

History in Mint

It is a little bit of history when you find a mint. There is no record as to where or when the first mint was made. The first modern mint, as you know this article of men's wear, was made in Paris in 1404 by a Swiss manufacturer. But it was not until 1830, thereafter that the French adopted the sort of a head covering.

Various Species of Mint

There are 12 species of mint growing in America. The most important is the Spearmint or garden mint used for fruit and for flavoring chewing gum, paper and with which peppermint is flavored and menthol prepared, peppermint, used in medicine, and bergamot, whose lemon-scented leaves give a fragrant oil used in perfumes.

THE BLACKER FLORAL SHOP

Or n of "Parson"
The "parson" was once pronounced like "a" (Englishmen still say clerk to home with drink) and person was pronounced person. Because he was usually the most distinguished individual in the parish, the clergyman became "the person," or as we now say, the parson.
